christing graces, affording all manuer of ripe fruit, that even the worldling coveted her spirit. Such lives are too rare, and such deaths are too seidom. The precise time of her death was unknown to her friends, for without a struggle or a groan, without sickness to precede it, she was gone, leaving on her face the triumphant smile of the victor. On the following Wednesday a tearful company met at the Waverly school house to listen to a discourse from the pastor, and all that was morial was conveyed to the Waverly cemetery, and there laid away by loving hands to await the sound of Gabriel's trumpet and the voice of God.

Dyspepsia is the prevailing malady of civilized life. A weak dyspeptic stomach acts very slowly or not at all on many kinds acts very slowly or not at all on many kinds of food; gases are extricated, acids are formed and become a source of pain and disease until discharged. To be dyspeptic is to be miserable, hopeless, depressed, confused in mind, forgetful, irresolute, drowsy, weak, languid and useless. It destroys the Teeth, Complexion, Strength, Peace of Mind and Bodily ease. It produces Headache, Pain in Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of Stomach, Bad Taste in Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of Heart, Inflammation of Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms.
